

ACLA Associate Membership

Benefits, Eligibility and Dues

What is the ACLA Associate Membership?

The ACLA Associate Membership allows health care related companies, non-profit organizations, and professional service firms that support the laboratory industry to benefit from many of ACLA's advocacy, education, and collaborative programs as well as meet with the leaders of ACLA member companies.

Associate Membership Benefits

ACLA Associate Membership benefits include:

- Periodic conference calls with ACLA to receive updates and discuss ACLA's key issues including
 - Reimbursement (Medicare Billing, Compliance, Legislative Issues, CLFS Updates, Physician Fee Schedule Issues, and more)
 - CPT Coding
 - Federal Affairs
 - Regulatory Oversight of Genetic, Molecular Tests
 - Legal
- The opportunity to meet with the leaders of national, regional, hospital, esoteric and ESRD laboratories
- Participation in the ACLA Annual Meeting including recognition at the meeting, in the program and other printed materials.
- Regular email updates from ACLA on on-going advocacy, billing, coding, reimbursement and regulatory issues.

Eligible Organizations

Health care companies, professional service firms, and non-profit organizations, including diagnostic manufacturers, legal, consulting, information technology, investment, and venture capital firms.

Annual Dues

For-profit companies	(over $500 million revenue)	$50,000
	($100 million to $500 million)	$25,000
	($0 to $100 million)	$5,000
Professional Service Firms (legal, consulting, investment)		$5,000
Non-profits		$2,000

Application Process

Interested companies and organizations may apply by contacting: Julie Khani, President, American Clinical Laboratory Association, 1100 New York Avenue, NW, Suite 725 West, Washington, DC 20005, 202-637-9466, jkhani@acla.com.
